LABOURNET SERVICES

We are privileged to have a business relationship with Labournet since January 2009. Labournet forms an integral part of our HR Department and processes. The service that we receive from their IR Consultants, is of outstanding quality and the consultants that we have dealt with, are highly professional.

We didn't have a HR Department before Labournet introduced their services to us. The consultants and helpdesk staff of Labournet was of outstanding value to our company, with support and advice at any time needed. We cannot imagine that our disciplinary process and HR Management could be a success without the professional service and quick response from your consultants.

The staff of Labournet is always just a phonecall away. We could highly recommend their services to any company that is in need of highly qualified, competent assistance in Human Resource Departments. We are proud to be associated with Labournet.

Kind regards,
